What is going on inside your brain?

Inside your brain are many of the keys to what make you tick. Imagine peering into the minds of your clients – now you can! Professor Dario Nardi shares key results and anecdotes from his neuroscience lab. In lab, he views people's brain activity in real time as they engage in activities from signing their name to telling stories and doing a speed dating game. The results are clear: individual personality differences matter.

What is the benefit for you?

Attendees will learn specific "must know" coaching points that link to the 8 Jungian functions and are based on solid research. For example, attendees will learn a key cue they must watch for with "TJ" clients and how to join a client in the effective use of extraverted Intuiting. Also, attendees will learn how to nurture and sustain a state of high-performance creative "flow" when all regions of the brain are in sync. With secrets in hand, attendees will be able to quickly and powerfully evoke the interest and capabilities of clients.

This is a non-technical presentation with some opportunities for Q & A
