

F.A.C.T. Fine Art of Clarifying Type

1.5 hour
teleconference

Linda Berens

Linda Berens is the founder of Interstrength® Associates, a corporate consulting and training organisation. She is an organisational consultant and has spent over twenty-five years teaching professionals as well as helping individuals and teams recognise their strengths, transcend their weaknesses, and work effectively together. Linda is recognised internationally for her contributions to the theory of psychological type and for developing user-friendly training materials for practical application of understanding individual differences. Linda has authored many of the texts facilitators use as their authority and guide when working with clients. Currently her Interstrength accreditation program is taught across USA, Canada, UK, Europe and in Australia. It provides a richness of tools and understanding which carry facilitators to an advanced level of understanding personality type.

Free Registration

for financial AusAPT or NZAPT members.

What questions will she ask?

Linda will be working with someone who is uncertain about their temperament preference. She will be asking questions and listening to the responses to assist the person to reach clarity regarding their innate temperament. This may, or may not, lead to a clarification of a whole four letter code.

How will she deal with the challenge? When will she call it quits?

What connections are being made in her head?

After working with the person, Linda will share with us the rich connections which were going on in her head. What was she not 'telling' her client? What other 'insider knowledge' about Type did she bring to her line of questioning?

What is the benefit for you?

At the end of this teleconference you will have experienced a practical demonstration of clarifying type in action. Linda Berens is an expert with years of experience working with individuals as they explore and come to understand their core motivations which remain with them for life.
