Psychological Type and the Enneagram

BRISBANE
Thursday 16 July 2009
7:00 - 9:00 pm

Relevant for experienced and newly qualified Type facilitators and coaches (MBTI, Interstrength, MajorsPTI)

Are you interested in a practical overview of the Enneagram? The Enneagram is an ancient way of understanding personality. It has some remarkable similarities with our understanding of Psychological Type, yet some interesting differences. Whether or not you know your Enneagram and Personality Type well, this workshop will provide some interesting insights, and a lot to think about!

Join Delma Stormont, an Enneagram and Type practitioner, as she provides a practical overview of the Enneagram. Delma has recently completed an intensive one year Enneagram teaching program, is a practitioner of Type instruments with accreditation in both Interstrength® and MBTI® and works as a consultant in the health industry.
