in leadership

NZ Association for Psychological Type

Theme:

We are all leaders.

Type – the recognition of differences in personality, and the passion to understand, appreciate, and make constructive use of them; type is the necessary tool for high quality leadership.

Jung and Myers and Briggs, and their students, have given us a huge and valuable resource for making leaders. No time and climate in the world so desperately needs highly functioning leadership as the present.

What this conference means for you:

This conference is a sharing of professional experience as we strive to bring the fruits of type to leadership in homes, workplaces and communities, and in ordinary and extraordinary work.

- Share your insights
- Gain inspiration and encouragement from others
