

Australian Association for Psychological Type Inc

The Work I Do – Career Development

Elwin Hall (ENFP) Career Development Practitioner /Coach

&

Ian Ball (ISTJ) Manager, Psychological Type Research Unit

Elwin will present her views about counselling for career and life issues. Ian will raise critical questions to examine the bases of her approach and the tools used in her processes. Elwin's approach to career development has a number of distinctive elements, and these will be illustrated.

A unique feature of this presentation will be the introduction of one of Elwin's Gen Y clients. A dynamic young man, he is an intuitive thinker, and at a cross roads in his career planning. He has agreed to be interviewed by Ian and to share his perceptions of Elwin's counselling approach and his outcomes to date. As he is a lawyer, expect the unexpected!!

In the afternoon the group will look at three case studies using the new instrument: Majors™ OEM (Occupational Environment Measure) in order to appreciate its potential role in career counselling.

Participants who wish to experience the Majors OEM online prior to the workshop are invited to contact Ian gmagpa@bigpond.net.au. This will add an additional $10.00 to the workshop fee and a hard copy feedback of the report will also be provided.

About Elwin

Elwin Hall is known as a passionate and energetic career development practitioner and lifestyle coach. Her speciality is working with the latent talent of the 18-30 cohort, just as they make important career and lifestyle choices. She also consults to organisations and has worked as a careers counsellor with CALD students at TAFE. Currently enrolled in the Graduate Certificate of Career Education and Development at RMIT, her aim is to stay abreast of the changing careers culture and standards in Australia. She has a Master of Applied Science, Innovation and Service Management (a program in the Leadership and Management of Change). Elwin has been an active member of AusAPT since 2000 and is currently regional President of Vic/TAs.

About Ian

Ian Linton Ball is an Honorary Life Member of AusAPT and in his role as Manager of the Psychological Type Research Unit at Deakin University, has made many contributions at national and international conferences and in various publications about concepts of psychological type. Ian is a Fellow of the Australian Psychological Society and a Chartered Member of the Australian Human Resources Institute. He holds qualifications in psychology and education and is an Honorary Fellow at Deakin University. Ian has a long and broad experience of teaching across all school levels; at the tertiary level, he taught units on Career Education and Career Guidance.

Date: Saturday 24th May 2008

Times: Start 10:00 a.m. for 10:30 a.m. Finish 3.30 p.m.

Venue: ACER, 19 Prospect Hill Rd, Camberwell (Melway p45 J:12)

Cost (includes light lunch): $55.00 AusAPT Members $110.00 Non-Members

Parking: Public parking behind Burke Road shops and in neighbouring suburban streets

RSVP by Monday 12th May 2008 (for catering purposes)

To Register: For all queries contact Ian Ball gmagpa@bigpond.net.au